The Company insures on equitable terms, and at a fixed premium, every description of property. The Company is solely and exclusively responsible for losses occasioned by fire which may be suffered by insured parties.

The Insurance may be effected for periods ranging from one month to ten years. The total premium is payable in advance, in cases where the Insurance is effected for a term of one year or less; and annually where the term exceeds one year. In terms of from 5 to 10 years, payment in advance of 5 years premium, entitles the Insured to the reimbursement of one year's premium: or in other words the Company will only charge the premium corresponding to four years.

Payment in advance of ten year's premium entitles the Insured to the reimbursement of two year's premium; with a further abatement of 10 p: cent: on the premium corresponding to the term of eight years: that is he will only be charged with the amount of eight year's premiums—less 10 p. cent.

The Company furnishes guarantees of the highest character, from the fact of there being no other Fire Insurance Company, at a fixed premium, having its head residence in the Argentine Republic; and also from the circumstance of its large capital.

The Company's funds are deposited in the Provincial Bank.

Further particulars will be furnished on application at the Company's Offices. 93 xp n15

THE WAR IN THE NORTH.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE.

By the Lujan from Rosario we receive the following news brought on Friday to that port by the Brazileira from Itapiru. On Sunday the 22nd at 11.30 p.m. the allied forces bombarded by land and water the Paraguayan fortifications in the Chaco as well as in Curupaity and Humaita—the latter being simultaneously attacked by the infantry. The great trenches of the mangrullo of Tuyuti had been taken, and a large quantity of ammunition and cattle found in them. The bombardment was going on on the morning of the 23rd, when the Brazileira left.—(Nacional.)

SUPPLEMENTAL REVIEW FOR EUROPE.

Since our packet review of the 25th inst., important intelligence has been received from the seat of war. The allied troops, by the direction of the Commander-in-Chief, the Marquis Caxias, but under the command of Generals Osorio and Gelly y Obes, reconnoitred in force the enemy's lines on the morning of the 21st inst. The outer entrenchments of the Paraguayans were found weakly guarded, and the allies easily penetrated as far as the redoubts, behind which it is now believed 4,000 to 5,000 of the enemy are concentrated. The bulk of the forces, under General Lopez in person, are said to have abandoned Humaita and taken up a position at Timbo or Tebicuari.

The next arrival from the seat of war is anxiously looked for, as it must go far to decide the important question as to what probabilities exist of the struggle continuing under a complete change in the site and character of the operations. The long hoped-for event of the Brazilian squadron forcing the passage of the batteries has not, so far, led to the important results anticipated; and people are beginning to fear that the fall of Humaita itself may not, after all, lead to the immediate termination of the war, if Lopez succeeds in establishing his position in the rear of the allies. One fact is certain, and it has some significance. If Lopez has been offered the means of escape, he has declined the same, with thanks!

The news received yesterday from all parts of the Argentine Confederation present one picture of electioneering broils. It is impossible for the most acute and the best informed to mould from such a hubbub of materials a reliable opinion as to the chances of the various candidates for the Presidency of the Republic. We can only discern that whilst the efforts of any branch of the Liberal party, whose nominal candidate is Sarmiento, are wasted in vague discussions and in mutual admiration at the popular clubs, the supporters of Mr. Elizalde, backed by the National Government and Brazilian influence, are unscrupulously active; and in the loom of this murky political atmosphere the name of Urquiza keeps rising continually at some new and unexpected point. In the general struggle the names proposed for President and Vice-President seem at the moment to stand thus: Urquiza and Taboada; Sarmiento and Alsina; Elizalde and Paunero. But the confusion is worse confounded, owing to the circumstance that Mr. Elizalde, in leaning for support on the Taboadas in the North and on the retrograde party in Santa Fé, is working as much for Urquiza and the country party, the residue and representatives of the old Federals, as he is for himself. The ambiguous attitude of President Mitre in regard to Elizalde, whom he supports, and towards Urquiza, whom he once patronized as a necessary evil, is at present inexplicable. He has lately addressed a long and important letter to Governor Aldao in Santa Fé, and the publication of it may throw some light on his plans and ideas.

The Central Argentine Railway is pushing its extensions from Villa Nueva to Cordova. The materials and plant for the new section have arrived.

A curious occurrence in connection with the Gas Company in this city, is drawing attention. The company had formerly the privelege of introducing the materials, machinery and coals, free of duty. Four years ago a new contract was made with the Government; and the company in the way of some quid pro quo resigned that privelege. The directors failed to advise the shareholders and others of the new arrangement and continued to pay high dividends without taking into account the liability for duties. The Government has suddenly came down upon them for arrears amounting to a very large sum. The decree exacting the payment of the duties, has been lately signed by the President.

Great complaints are made by the importing houses in regard to the excessive valuations placed on the goods by the Customs authorities. This question as well as that of the valuation of real estate by the tax commissioners, will be seriously taken up by the commercial community.

We have to notice rather a brisk movement in the shipping business. From a document just forwarded to us by the Captain of the Port we observe that in the month of February there were no less than 280 foreign vessels of all nations discharging in the port; so that any movement will be welcome to the shipping interest.

According to Messrs. Russell and Anderson's produce circular the stock of WOOL in Buenos Ayres amounts to 150,000 arrobes. The sales during the month reached 450,000. Total receipts from commencement of the season 3,210,000 arrobes. With the prospect of considerable supplies still to come from the country districts it is doubtful if present prices for wool will be maintained.

The sales of salted hides amount to 91,000 during the month, at prices averaging 40rls. per 60lbs. The total sales up to date amount to 176,500, being less than half the number in the corresponding period of last year. Sheepskins of good classes in fair demand. Hair of all descriptions in active demand, and at advanced rates. No stock. Exchange closes flat, at previous quotations, 45⅝ to 48¾.

ANOTHER REVOLUTION in ROSARIO

OVERTHROW OF THE CONSTITUTED AUTHORITIES.
ORONO IN PRISON.

(FROM OUR NEW CORRESPONDENT).

Rosario, March 26.

It has happened just as might have been expected. No sooner had the national troops turned their backs than the authorities in Rosario were toppled down like nine-pins by Col. Rodriguez and his men. On Tuesday night, about ten o'clock, the row commenced at the market, when it is said Rodriguez narrowly escaped with his life, having been fired on by a party while he was in a café. The revolution had been agreed on the day before, as one of the chiefs passing a gentleman's house held up his fist, and exclaimed "Just wait until to-morrow!" Towards two o'clock in the morning the firing became pretty hot; but the revolutionists were all well armed, and the authorities had no one but badly armed vigilantes, who took more care to preserve themselves than to injure the enemy. By three o'clock all was over, and the poor church bells, that have to do duty for both parties, rang out a merry peal.

The Gefe Politico, Mr. Lamas, was taken prisoner, but was liberated by General Conesa, for strange as it may appear, the revolutionists carried out their plan in presence of this General. However I think we may congratulate ourselves that some National officer of rank was here. About 11 o'clock Mr. Oroño was taken in his house, and lodged in the prison. There are contradictory tales of his having been liberated by General Conesa; but I believe up to the time I am writing, Oroño is still in confinement, with Dr. Carlos Paz, Ruiz and others.

It was suggested that General Conesa should assume the authority. Mr. Lamas desired this, but the General refused, and we have Mr. Aaron Castellano again.

The casualties have not been great, there were five or six killed and some few wounded.

Is was right in my appreciation; it would have been better to have obeyed the decree of Dr. Costa, although it was unconstitutional, we should have had the elections over now, and everything quiet; because when once a legitimate Governor is elected, that would be no more use for the gauchos, and we should have authorities legally constituted, and not revolutionary ones that of course consider themselves at liberty to commit any excesses, and the revolutionists themselves authorised to be insolent to any one of the opposite party. I am quite alarmed at the idea that we shall have to wait until the 26 of April for the elections—it would be one month more of lawlessness. What intense satisfaction it must be to Dr. Costa and those that sent him, to witness this second revolution and the imprisonment of Mr. Oroño!

It is supposed that a similar movement has taken place in Santa Fé, so that by this time it may be probable that Mr. Aldao is deposed, and we have another Government, and consequently the Legislative decree may be overridden—so much the better. Better any amount of political iniquity than have a month of revolutionary rule. Let us have legitimate authorities at all events, whoever they may be.

A somewhat strange phase is seen in the revolutionary movement in Santa Fé. It is decidedly supported by nearly the whole Spanish population—the Italians hold aloof—the English people are against the revolution, because as a principle they abhor them, and believe they do, in nineteen cases out of twenty, much more harm than good, even should their cause be just. In the present case the cause is merely the question as to which of two parties is to govern, and consequently impardonable under our manner of viewing political matters.

In haste, I am, yours truly,

CARCARAÑA.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The French packet Aunis arrived at Montevideo yesterday, early in the afternoon. Owing to the bad weather the port authorities could not board her. We may expect her here to-morrow.

The steamer Parana, formerly the Lady Lang, and of the same construction as the Edward Everett and that class of American steamers, left Montevideo on Thursday evening at the usual time, but up to the moment we write she has not arrived at this port. She was last seen by the Edward Everett, which sailed with her, near to the Chico bank, and just before the storm came on, which, as will be remembered, raged so violently on that evening from seven to nine in this city. We have made enquiries at the agents of the Parana, Messrs. Matti and Co., and they inform us that at half past three yesterday as nothing had been heard of her, they had dispatched the steamer Paysandu in search of her. The missing vessel carried the mails from Montevideo, which accounts for no papers or letters being received in Buenos Ayres yesterday from the sister city. The Paraná had twenty five passengers from Montevideo, and before we go to press we hope to receive the names.

We are glad to see that the earthworks of Mr. Hopkin's railway from San Fernando to the port on the river Lujan are in a forward state. The materials for the much wanted wharves have been sent for to England, two or three months ago. In about nine months time we hope to see this important undertaking in full operation. It is the remark of everyone who visits the Tigre and Lujan, how well calculated these rivers are for building and repairs of vessels and general river trade.

The meeting of the Club Libertad on Wednesday was well attended, and the proceedings, which under the circumstances were very orderly, resulted in the nomination of a list of 28 candidates for electors, composed of men of standing and independence, among the most conspicuous being Drs. Rawson, Ugarte, Uriburu, Messrs. Manuel Ocampo, A. Benites, Antonio Cambaceres, Carlos Casares, &c. H. Varela and Manuel Argerich made speeches that were enthusiastically cheered. A commission was also named composed of the President of the Club and the two last named to draw up a manifesto in support of the candidateship of Sarmiento and Alsina.

The Arno, of the Royal Mail Company, left yesterday for Montevideo and Rio with the following passengers: For Southampton—Mr. and Mrs. Drabble, children, and servants, Abram Forrest, Von Eycken, John Gallagher, Hemming Larses, Hans Matthiassen, Thos. Cunningham; for Lisbon—F. W. Moore, W. Milligan, Fred. Gowland, A. Wyatt Smith, Francisco Solá, José Roca, Estanislao Azpiri, José Guimaraens and two children, M. Lopez Pinto; for Rio—Andres Luis de Silva.

The copious rain that fell on Thursday evening has helped to clean the streets, which are allowed to remain in such a neglected condition by our worthless municipal corporation, and agreeably refreshed the atmosphere.

During the night of Tuesday last, two individuals attempted to force an entrance into Consul Hutchinson's house in Rosario, but a man who had been left in charge in an outhouse having fired off a revolver, the parties made a precipitate retreat.

We understand that the newly appointed British Minister to the Argentine Republic, the Hon. Mr. Stuart, is not expected in Buenos Ayres before the month of August next.

It is rumored that Dr. Ferreira y Artigas, who has lately resigned the editorial wand of the "Siglo," will take the direction of a new paper, the "Orden," which is to appear shortly in the sister city.

The returns of the elections of last Sunday for deputies to Congress that have come in from the rural districts up to yesterday give almost the same result as was obtained in the city—the list recommended by the Club Libertad having been triumphant in a great majority of them.

The news from Rosario, a summary of which we gave in our yesterday's issue, is, unfortunately, more than confirmed by our correspondent's letter, published in another column, the details of which will be read with sad interest. This is nothing but what had been fully anticipated when it was known that Sr. Costa had ordered all the national forces out of the province, and the whole responsibility of the troubles that will befal that once flourishing province are to be laid at the door of the National Government. Whatever the result may be, it is impossible not to foresee that great bloodshed must ensue, besides a total paralisation of business.

From the rest of the interior provinces the news is not more cheering. From all quarters complaints are sent in to the National Government of the arbitrary abuse made by its representatives of the powers with which they are invested. From Tucuman, from Catamarca, from Rioja, besides Santa Fé, the constitutional provincial authorities clamour, and seem to clamour in vain, for justice, and from all sides the popular element rises defiant against the oppression that is threatened. Luckily, however, this violent state of things cannot last much longer; in a fortnight hence the first great electoral skirmish will be delivered, and, although the serious struggle will only then begin, it is possible that the result may give such a preponderance to one party as to preclude any further attempt on the part of the others.

We have before alluded to the absurd business of the attempted assassination of Lopez. The following paragraph from the "Semanario" is all we can find in reference to it:—"We have to hold up to the execration of the public the fact that Generals Mitre and Caxias have again attempted the life of His Excellency Marshal Lopez by means of an infamous emissary, convinced that in fair fight they cannot overcome him. After our glorious assault on Tuyuti they sent an Argentine citizen named Benjamin Gonzalez with the express mission to assassinate Marshal President Lopez, and under the promise to the criminal of a great reward. He presented himself on the Paraguayan trenches as a deserter from the enemy, but he quickly confessed that he was a sub-lieutenant of Mitre's escort, sent by him and Caxias to compass the assassination of Lopez, and, for this purpose, he came armed with a dagger and a revolver. His instructions were to save himself after the deed by swimming to the squadron, and"—but perhaps our readers have had enough.

The excessive length of Mr. Olivera's letter, has reluctantly obliged us to divide it. The remainder will appear to-morrow, when we shall take the opportunity of alluding to his personal polemic with ourselves, a matter in which the public will not take much interest.

We have received No 57 for January of the "Revista de Buenos Ayres." We observe an article entitled 'Clamor de un Paraguayo,' which appears fresh. The notes of the editor, Mr. Quesada, on the 'Jurisprudence of the Courts,' will no doubt be of interest. We shall take an early opportunity of examining these articles. In the index the accustomed article on the 'Colonization of Peru' appears as naturally as possible; but on turning to page 20, as directed, we find something altogether distinct. Is it possible that our antiquarian friend Don Vicente Fidel Lopez has abandoned his researches into the pelasgic origin of the aborigines of this Continent to trouble himself about his candidateship for the Presidency of the Republic? In his new capacity he will have a much wider circle of listeners, but one much less select.

An eye-witness has favored us with an interesting account of the gay doings at Belgrano on Wednesday last, which the abundance of materials obliges us to hold over till to-morrow.

The Uruguay, which leaves to-morrow morning at 10 for Montevideo, will take the supplementary mail for the Arno, which is made up to-day at the British Consulate at 3 p.m.

The Lujan, which arrived yesterday from Rosario, brought down several inhabitants of that place, who have taken to flight for fear of revolutionary excesses.

HECTOR VARELA'S SPEECH.

Without wishing to detract in the slightest the merit of Mr. Varela as an orator, which is besides too well established, it would not be amiss in the meantime to call his attention to an error, important from its frequent recurrence, which he committed in his speech of Wednesday last at the meeting of the Club Libertad.

Like most South Americans he has doubtless drawn his knowledge of history from a French source, which, considering how partial French historians are in questions of national glory, is often as muddy as the waters of the Plate in a storm.

Whether from temperament or education, it is difficult to say, it is nevertheless a fact, that the French Revolution is so dazzling to the imagination of South Americans that people here are wont to attribute it to almost every blessing under the sun. Thus when the honorable gentleman said in the course of his speech of Wednesday last that the American Revolution was the fruit of French mind, and the immediate work of Lafayette, he committed, chronoligically and otherwise, an unpardonable error in history. No student of history can under value the results of the French Revolution, but he cannot but bear in mind that the American Revolution preceded it by at least fourteen years. In the second place, the American Revolution was such in one sense only—that is to say, a mere separation of the Colonies from the mother country, and their formation into an independent confederate Republic.

Neither the laws, nor virtually the government, underwent many and important modifications, much less society; for the rights of man, both as a citizen of a great country and as a member of a family, were already secured by the Charter and British Constitution, as Otis, a Massachusets lawyer, asserts, and continued after the Revolution intact, and to all purposes the same.

Democratical and republican principles had been inculcated among the people a century and a half previous, that is to say, before and after the departure of the Pilgrim Fathers from the old country.

The Colonies were founded upon and with these very ideas, so that the revolutionists on effecting their separation were never subsequently embarrassed by any of those conflicting principles which ultimately made an empire of France, and South America the home of discord.

Even as far back as the reign of Charles the First history shows that liberty and equality—in fine, republicanism—were thoroughly understood and appreciated, and they occasioned in reality the departure of the first colonists from Great Britain.

Whatever may be said to the contrary, liberty, at least, is a plant of Anglo-Saxon growth. It first took root on English soil, and it is only there, and in nations of Anglo-Saxon origin, that it has permanently weathered the storm of social conflicts.

As to Lafayette there is nothing much in his life previous to or after the Revolution that proves he thoroughly understood republicanism; at all events his knowledge of its principles cannot for a moment be compared to that of men like Washington, Hancocke, and Adams. It is absurd to believe men of their stamp drew inspiration from a French aristocrat. What really brought Lafayette and other French officers to America, was their hatred to England and the English, who had just driven the French out of the North American continent, without leaving them a foot of all their vast territorial possessions. Lafayette and his companions did nothing more than what any other good and valiant soldiers would have done on the occasion; and it is to be surmised they had no other notions of the great struggle that was actually taking place than those inspired by the enthusiasm of battle and victory.

When the honourable gentleman constantly invoked the spirit of the French clubs the very term should have told the auditors that these institutions too, even practically, were of English origin.

As to the influence of the French revolution in South America, if distance, time, and communication (entirely English) be considered it must have been comparatively little. On the contrary, if Mr. Dominguez is an authority, the very seeds of South American independence were sown by Englishmen and North Americans, especially by the officers that fell prisoners in the English expedition against Buenos Ayres. In a word, chronologically speaking and logically, the French revolution was the offspring of the American, and its principles were introduced into France by Lafayette and others, who went to America, not to imbue the people with democratical ideas, but to learn them.

With this exception, we believe Mr. Varela's speech was good. As a public speaker he is self-possessed, easy, gay or sarcastic, as may suit the moment, and possesses a fluency which, considering his speech as impromptu, was really extraordinary. Besides, he possesses the power, rare in impromptu discourses, of introducing a series of adjectives or qualifications whose signification he graduates in a manner that is well nigh perfect, whether intensity or diminution is implied, the import of the word is seen to culminate in the last. Of the two orators that spoke yesterday, Dr. Varela seems to us incomparably the greater.

A VOICE FROM THE CAMP.

CHEERFUL NEWS.

Quilmes, March 19.

To the Editors of the Standard.

Gentlemen,

This has been a year of seca, langostas, and of cholera, but we are frequently troubled with a "year of thistles." After such a year, when the impenetrable forest of prickles has condemned us for months to live like prisoners in our houses, a mighty pampero comes, and lo! in one hour, the universal jungle is level with the earth. With what a sensation of freedom do we then traverse the open plains! How the unobstructed prospect gladdens our eyes, and how it rejoices us to hear the crunching of the dry stalks under our horses' hoofs, the bones of the insolent tyrant who so lately stood to oppose and triumph over us!

This has not been a year of thistles—but the passing away of many afflictions that surrounded and hemmed us in, gives us the same free and happy sensations: yea, sensations a hundred times freer and happier. How slowly they gathered round us, and how long they oppressed us! How suddenly they were gone, as if a mighty storm in passing, gathered them into its heart of clouds and borne them away for ever!

The people of Quilmes, however, though exempted from none of the causes of sufferings which have made this year a memorable one in our annals, have reason to be thankful; their afflictions have been comparatively light.

The victims of cholera were few, considering its ravages in some partidos: nineteen was the maximum of deaths in a day—the total number of deaths I have not ascertained. The number of deaths was far less shocking than the horrible inhumanity of those who fled from their dying relatives. The langostas that bore down on us from south and west ended their march of devastation on the outskirts of the chacras. I venture to predict their 'insect armies' will not reappear next season, not for the reason, as some think, that when they appeared eighteen years ago, they continued their ravages for three summer, and this is the third year of their coming, but because I have not observed them laying their eggs before dying, as in other years.

The seca has been less severe than elsewhere; many sheepfarmers from Matanzas and San Vincente found pasture for their flocks with us. The mighty dust-storm that visited us on the 14th of February gathered its mass of darkness from districts west of Quilmes.

The crops, though not so abundant as other years, exceed the expectations of the chacreros. A goodly sight is the piles of golden grain sunning in their patios. Corn-growing, as long as corn is worth $70 a fanega, will be a profitable business, even when the average yield is only 15 fanegas a square, as it is this year in Quilmes.

There is also a gleam of comfort for the poor shepherd. The frequent and heavy rains, coming so long before frosty weather, have caused a lush pasture to cover the camps. Winter will find the sheep fat enough to resist the cold and rear their lambs; but also,

What boots it with incessant care
To tend the homely shepherds' slighted trade?

So said Milton; so may say every sheepfarmer in Buenos Ayres, substituting the word 'unprofitable' for the word 'slighted.'

I am, gentlemen,
Respectfully yours,
LAPATRA.

MR. OLIVERA ON TAXATION.

To the Editors of the "Standard."

Gentlemen,

In countries like ours, where the most vital questions of social interest are abandoned for the illegitimate struggles of party spirit, it is a consolation to those who really love the land of their birth, to see public writers in journals, so ably conducted as your own, devote themselves to the development of ideas tending to the aggrandisement and wealth of their adopted country. It is to this circumstance alone, and not to any merit in the article itself, that we ascribe the flattering remarks with which we have been favored by the editors of the "Standard," in their number of the 14th February last, whilst giving the readers of that journal an idea of our rural review for the past year. We congratulate ourselves, therefore, that the ideas which we have emitted, with the generous desire of improving our present precarious financial position, have found an echo in your journal, and have induced you to discuss them.

We enter into the discussion the more readily, Messrs. Editors, convinced that it is by this means only that the truth can be arrived at, and the convenience of any measure which may be proposed ascertained, reserving to ourselves the right of treating some of the points which the enlightened Editors of the "Standard" have been kind enough to suggest in the "Anales," begging of them that they will continue to afford us in the future, as on this occasion, their powerful aid in the discussion of these arduous questions, which it requires so much study to solve properly, particularly when some of the points they embrace may be connected with political questions, which it is so difficult to handle here, when party feelings are so rancorous and intolerant, each looking upon their opinions as religious dogmas, often without seriously examining them.

For the present, therefore, and induced by the good faith with which the Editors of the "Standard" have entered into a discussion of the topics which we did but lightly touch upon in the narrow limits of a review, purely agricultural, of the past year, we shall circumscribe ourselves to a few explanations on the point on which it appears we are at issue, merely because we omitted to enter into some details which we did not consider appropriate in an article of that nature.

For the reasons we have just stated, we did not mention in our review the manner in which a reduction of the tax might be arrived at by reducing our expenses; but these are purely administrative questions, and completely foreign to the character of an agricultural review.

Although we have carefully re-read our article, we have found nothing in it ridiculing Sr. Avellaneda, whose talents we admire and respect; but upon the tenor of the sentences which follow in the "Standard" editorial, we are led to believe they refer to a paragraph, in which we mentioned that when the cyphers denoting the sum total of production are taken, without taking into consideration the causes which have increased or diminished the same, the cost of production, and the marketable value of the article, very serious errors may be committed. Further on we entered into an explanation of this assertion, and concluded by showing it to be correct, and quoting from the Report of the Provincial Minister of Finance, who spoke of "prosperity, and of a country always going a-head," which country, in the meantime, has been for the last two years and a-half going down an inclined plane, towards a complete bankruptcy. These assertions, Messrs. Editors, allow me to say so, did not, in any way, establish that "any scale of taxes for 1866 was disproportionate for 1868."

We now come to a part of your article which, we will candidly confess, has deeply affected us, the more so, since the charge comes from gentlemen, of whose talent and tact we entertain the highest opinion. It is that in which we are supposed to be wedded to old-fashioned prejudices between town and country, and which you so properly remark are improper and unworthy in a discussion of questions of political economy, when the drift of the whole of our article is no other than to attack all such ideas, the pernicious effects of which we so much feel. And if you, Messrs. Editors, lived in more intimate contact with the native population you would have observed this to be the case, and would have assailed them with no less energy than we have done. If you still entertain doubts on the subject, it would be advisable to look into the proceedings of our great landed proprietors, and ask them what capital have they laid out on agricultural improvements, fences, laying down crops, and compare the amount of these outlays with what they have spent in their costly and unproductive buildings, we are speaking in an economical sense, in this city. Ask them why they abandon their properties in the country, and live in the city, and withdraw their influence from the country districts where their property is situated, thus leaving the public administration thereof in unskilful hands, which would not be the case if a larger number of distinguished persons resided there permanently. Consequently this is not an evil which originates with the Government, as you seem to suppose is my opinion, but, on the contrary, is rooted in the people. One of the advantages of such a change would be that the inhabitants would then be more jealous of their rights, and would consequently impress upon the Government the important fact that the interests of the country districts, are fully as much entitled to private protection and support, if not more, as those of the cities. Thus it is that the rural interests, exercising no influence in the counsels of the Government, have been, up to the present, tended 'en pays conquis,' the situation of which you have so faithfully and graphically pourtrayed in your article, "The state of the country.'' In regard to the expenditure of the public income, in a just and equitable manner, and advantageously to every section of the province, you will certainly allow that if this were carried out it would be only acting with strict justice, and in accordance with the best principles of political economy.

And does this, in your estimation, manifest a desire of separating the interests of trade from those of agriculture, both of which are so intimately connected, that an injury or disregard of either must naturally produce pernicious effects on both.

There is, consequently, no difference of opinion on this point, and it is merely from a misunderstanding on your part that we are held up to the public as supporters of the very ideas we combat, and which are disapproved by the best writers on political economy. We thus see Mr. Leonce de Lavergne state in his work on the Rural Economy of France, "the disbursements made by the public treasury in the Department of the Seine alone, the seat of Government reached previous to 1848 to 500 millions annually—For so me years past Paris has witnessed the increase of this sum in a most exorbitant manner. The annual tribute paid by the rest of the Empire, according to the disbursements of the administration, had reached in 1855 to 877 millions, whilst in twelve departments fifty-one millions only have been spent."*

This is an absurd proceeding, which violates every principle of public economy and social order. And is not this fact repeated here? You have only to look over the budgets of the General and Provincial Government to find an answer to the question. This is one of the evils which all persons having the interest of the country at heart should endeavor to correct, and which is one of the objects which we had in view when writing our annual retrospect.

THE MISSING CLERGYMAN.

An evening contemporary copies a sensational paragraph from the Manchester Guardian, which professes to throw some light on the mysterious disappearance of Mr. Speke. It states that in "the searches made by the police for Mr. Speke a strange discovery has been made in a dilapidated house in one of the slums of Westminster. In a kitchen was found a chopping-block, made fast to the floor, of the kind that butchers ordinarily use. No ostensible purpose could be assigned for it in such a situation; and no ordinary force was sufficient to move it. By accident one of the police touched a spring, and the top (found to be a lid) flew open, and it was discovered that the sham block was not only hollow, but that it communicated with the main sewer." In the present state of public alarm occasioned by the disappearance not only of Mr. Speke, but of several other persons, such terrible inventions as chopping blocks communicating with the main sewers might produce a panic. To any one, indeed, knowing anything of main sewers the story would carry its own contradiction on its very face. To those who are not acquainted with such constructions it may be necessary to say that the paragraph in question has not an atom of truth for its foundation. Without attempting to solve the mystery of Mr. Speke's disappearance, we believe we are justified in stating that the police are now in possession of information which promises to supply a sort of clue to the mystery of Mr Speke's absence, though, of course, this promise may be disappointed:—Times.

The bare statement that a 'clue' has been found to the Speke mystery is rather tantalising. What is it? The writer of the London letter in the Leeds Mercury tells us that the solution resembles that in Mr. Charles Reade's story of "Hard Cash," where the hero of the tale is captured and incarcerated in a madhouse on the eve of his marriage. It is said that this is the real explanation of Mr. Speke's fate, that the police believe that Mr. Speke is now a resident in a private madhouse, and that those best acquainted with his domestic circumstances are most favorable to the theory. If it be the real explanation of the mystery, he may well remark that a grave responsibility rests upon those who have left an excited public in suspense so long after their own fears respecting their relative were set at rest.—Liverpool Courier.

GREAT FIRE IN LONDON.

Between three and four o'clock on the morning of the 11th the Oxford Music Hall was found to be on fire; by five nearly everything inflammable in it had been destroyed. The fire is supposed to have originated in the ignition of one of the seats stuffed with cocoa-nut matting, from the ash of a cigar or the end of a fusee. The watchman first discovered it, and he aroused Mr. Morton, and the two together poured water on the flames, which, however, spread too rapidly to be subdued by such means. The blazing up of the roof first gave intimation of the disaster to the police outside the building. The firemen, though they promptly answered the call made on them, came too late to do more than save the surrounding property. The Salvage Corps was of great use. Many of the instruments destroyed belonged to former members of the orchestra at Her Majesty's Theatre, who have been twice burnt out this season. It is easy to be wise after the event; still we cannot help saying that if the watchman inside the building had had ready access to water and hose, the Oxford might have been saved. Its destruction is doubly to be regretted, since it was one of the few music halls at which music could be heard. Its entertainments were always a gauge of the development of taste among a certain portion of the public. Besides making opera popular, it had almost achieved the abolition of the Concert-room Nigger. True, it was obliged to flavour Offenbach with "daring gyrations on the perch," but there was every reason to hope that its customers would soon lose the relish for condiments of this description.

LONGEVITY.

* * * But we should all be glad to know how to make a decent approximation to a patriarchal age. Here the records of extreme longevity are curiously defective in their teaching. In a general way, it is of course better to be regular, of virtuous habits, and cleanly life; but these things do not seem to be essential. There was a story the other day, in the American papers, of a teetotaller who called upon some nonagenarian and asked for the secret of his long life; he had heard that he was regular in his habits and hoped that he was a total abstainer. The venerable patriarch admitted the regularity, but added that it consisted in regularly chewing tobacco, "liquoring up" with the regularity of a steam engine, and regularly going to bed drunk. This possibly mythical person does not seem to be entirely exceptional. Many persons have lived to great ages in spite of the usual sanitary rules. A charming old lady of 106 never washed, but steadily smeared her neck and face with hog's lard and her cheeks with rouge. An old person, of nearly equal longevity never took any exercise for 35 years, but consumed buttered rolls and eat roast meat for supper; whilst amongst other heroes we find a hard-drinking smuggler and a "soaking fox-hunting squire."—Saturday Review.

MUSICAL DISCORD.

An action in the Exchequer, 'Cooper v. Best,' in which judgment was allowed by default, brought to recover compensation, was lately held before Mr. Under-Sheriff Burchell, who presided over a special jury, for an assault at St. George's-hall Liverpool. The damages were laid at £200. Sir G. Honyman, Q.C., and Mr. R. Gadsden were for the plaintiff, Mr. Wilbye Cooper, the vocalist; Mr. Digby Seymour, Q. C., and Mr. Butler Rigby appeared for the defendant, the organist at St. George's-hall, Liverpool. Sir G. Honyman stated the case. In December the oratorio of the Messiah was performed at St. George's-hall, in which Mr. Wilbye Cooper sang the tenor part and, Madame Rudersdorff took the soprano part. Mr. Best was the organist, and played the organ accompaniment to the solos of Mr. Wilbye Cooper and Madame Ruders dorff. Handel had composed the oratorio with the full accompaniment, but in Mozart's accompaniment the organ was not required. Mr. Best however played, which very much annoyed Mr. Cooper, and when Mme. Rudersdorff had sung the air "I know that my Redeemer liveth," she sent a message to the organist, and he persisted in playing, and the plaintiff, according to the learned counsel's statement, said it was 'beastly playing'. In the library, when the parties were about to leave, a conversation took place between Mme. Rudersdorff, the plantiff, and the defendant. Mr. Cooper, on being appealed to by the lady, repeated what he had said, and the defendant then struck him with his fist in the face, and assaulted him. Before witnesses were called Mr. Digby Seymour expressed defendant's great regret that he had in a moment of irritation struck the plaintiff. The defendant was well known as an organist and composer, and felt hurt at the observation made on his playing, and certainly did strike a blow, for which he was now sorry. The parties consulted, and the matter was arranged by the defendant's counsel apologizing and consenting to a verdict for £50. Sir G. Honyman said as the assault had been in public, the plaintiff, whose object was not from pecuniary motives, required an apology in public. The Under-Sheriff congratulated the jury on the termination of the case, and hoped harmony would be restored. The jury, by consent, assessed the damages at £50.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Two Frenchmen, in giving evidence in a police case in London against a fellow-countryman charged with robbery, made a strange revelation of intended murders and robberies. It appears that the ordinary vagabondage of the metropolis has lately received numerous dangerous accessions in the shape of escaped convicts from the French galleys; but by great good fortune some of them have been apprehended and convicted before their more nefarious and sanguinary designs could be carried out.

The Italians naturally look forward with great interest to two events which will influence materially the commercial prosperity of the country—the opening of the Mont Cenis tunnel and the Suez Canal. It was lately stated that so far as the Alpine tunnel is concerned, nearly or quite five years are likely to elapse before it will be rendered available by the completion of the connecting railways over the lower flanks of the mountain. It is not therefore to be inferred, however, that the transmision of our India mail through Italy, instead of by way of Marseilles, is to await such completion of the accelerated route, as an obvious gain in time may already be secured by adopting the Brindisi route, and although nothing has very recently been heard of it, the British Government is probably taking steps towards the change so soon as the opening of the Cenis Summit Railway shall increase the saving of time and the certainy of regular transit.

Mr. Digby Seymour and a large deputation left the Irish address to the Queen at the Home Office on 11th of Feb. It numbers 22,603 signatures, and is tied with green ribbon. Mr. Hardy took it in; a quite exceptional act, for such things are generally left with the porter. He thanked Mr. Seymour and his friends for the moral assistance they were offering to the Government. The public will thank Mr. Seymour too—anybody's moral assistance is welcome in these times.

Exchange closed 48¾ to 48½. On France, 5.10. This has been an animated month for Exchange; probably more business done than by any preceding packet.

Importers are doing but a moderate trade, and no permanent improvement can be expected till the Upper Provinces are in order. The amount due by provincial traders to our local merchants is very great. Remittances in produce are precarious, from the armed bands prowling over the country; it is, therefore, expected that business cannot be brisk till after the Presidential election.

The demand for discount at the Provincial Bank to-day was above the average, and the Directors not very liberal. Letters have been sent to those who had a blank credit account at the Bank, calling upon them to reimburse, without delay, amounts overdrawn, thus virtually closing these accounts.

MORISON, THE HYGEIST'S
VEGETABLE
UNIVERSAL MEDICINES,
Particularized for Every Complaint.

MORISON'S PILLS.  MORISON'S POWDERS.

MORISON'S OINTMENT.

1.—These invaluable medicines being composed only of a vegetable matter, or medical herbs, and warranted, on oath, as containing not one particle of mercurial. or mineral substances (all of which are uncongenial to the nature of man), are found to be perfectly harmless to the most tender age, or the weakest frame, under every stage of human suffering; the most pleasant and benign in their operation that were ever offered to the world; and, at the same time, the most certain in searching out the root of any complaint, however deep, and of performing a cure.

2.—The Medicines are comprised in three different articles only; that is, in two kinds of pills, of different strength or power, designated by No. 1 and 2—the first is an efficient but most gentle and mild aparient, or opening Medicine, detaching and partially removing the bilious humours, whilst the No. 2 pills carry off those and the serous, acrid, and putrid houmours of the body, to which it is incidental.

The Vegetable Powders, again, are of great assistance, and facilitate the evacuation of bad humours; they soften, are cooling, and allay the thirst, and some doses of them throughout the day are useful in making the pills have better effect and curing sooner.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.

101--Cangallo--103.

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

THE ACME OF MEDICAL SCIENCE IS ACHIEVED IN THE WONDERFUL DISCOVERY OF NEW MEDICAL PRINCIPLES IN

PERFECT PURGATIVE PILLS
COATED WITH SWEET GUM.

1st Principle—A vegetable substitute for Calomel or Mercury is secured.

2d. A cathartic that cleanses the alimentary Canal and its neighboring Viscera as thoroughly as Lobelia does the stomach.

3d. Functional Harmony is secured to the secreting vessels of all the organs and glands in the system.

4th. Purification and equalization of the circulation of the blood.

5th. The properties of these Pills communicate a nutritious principle to the blood and reparative secretion.s

6th. A great want is supplied in their soothing, healing and expulsive power in cases of intestinal ulceration, as in Eruptive Fevers, where a cure depends upon free evacuations.

7th. The aged and persons suffering from paralysis of the bowels, by the use of one pill per day, secures regularity.

Persons suffering with any disturbance of the secretary organs, or that have difficulty in discharging the contents of the bowels, or that are in the habit of taking Pills or opening medicines, should try one box of these truly excellent Pills. The happiness of their effects on the system, and the satisfactory evidence one box will give you of their wonderful curative powers, will convince you that your faith and trust in them will become firmly established.

RADWAY'S
REGULATING PILLS.

A newly discovered principle in vegetable medication is securred in Radway's Regulating Pill, that places them far in advance of all other Purgative or Cathartic, Aparient or Sedative, and Anti-Bilious Medicine. They are the only vegetable substitute for Calomel or mercury known; the only Medicine that, during their process of purging, imparts nutriment to the debilitated system, and strengh, vigor and purity to the blood, and impaired secretions; the only purgative that will cleanse the Alimentary Canal and obstructed intestine as quickly and thoroughly, without weakening or neauseating the patient, as Lobelia (the most active and thorough emetic of the herbist) will the stomach, and the only purgative at present known safe to administer in case of Small Pox, Yellow Fever, Erysipelas, and other Malignant Fevers, that inflame and ulcerate the mucuous membranes of the Bowels, Stomach, &c.

THE PROPERTIES OF
DR. RADWAY'S PILLS.

They equalize the circulation, Purify the Blood, and Purge Corrupt and Acrimonious Humors, and retained deposits from the system in six hours.

AS A CATHARTIC, the increase, when suspended, the peroitaltic movement of the bowels, and promote a quick evacuation of its contents. Their influence is extended throughout the system, purging the retained deposits in the stomach, into the duodenum, stimulating the secretory, ducts of the pancreas and liver, in the promotion and increase of the flow of bile and pancreatic fluids.

PURGATIVES of common aloes exert their action on the colon and rectum by irritation of the mucuos membrane, without influencing the liver or its secretions. Such cathartics are unsafe in pills for general use. The common Cathartic Pills, that induce drastic liquid discharges, should never be given in cases of inflammation, or when there is ulceration of the intestinal canal.

THE APERIENT and mild LAXITIVE properties of RADWAY'S PILLS are the best safeguard in these disorders, and in all cases of eruptions and malignant fevers their balsamic, healing and sothing properties protect the coats of the alimentary passage against the irritant and acrid humors of the fauces.

THE NUTRITIOUS AND TONIC properties of these Pills are of great service in depleting fevers and uterine discharges, likewise as a dinner pill, to increase the appetite and promote digestion.

THEIR SEDATIVE properties allay pain in the nervous system, stomach and bowels, either from inflamation, colic, flatulence, wind, cramps, &c.

THEIR COUNTER IRRITANT influence extends throughout the system where there is inflamation, congestion or irritation, stimulating the blood and nervous fluids in the congested vessels, and equalizing its circulation. The principle of Counter irritations is generally applied to external remedies. Its application, internally, in the form of a purgative medicine, exemplified in Radway's Pills, has proved a wonderful curative principle, readily withdrawing from the blood and fluids their acrid and irritating humors.

AS DIAPHORETICS OR SUDORIFICS they stimulate the secretions of the skin, induce exhalation of obstructed perspiration.

THEIR DIURETIC properties act on the kidneys, correcting and regulating the flow of urine.

THEIR ANTI-BILIOUS properties stimulate the liver in the secretion of bile, and its discharge thorogh the biliary ducts. In all cases of Headache, Jaundice, Bilious Attacks, Saffrom-colered Sking, Impaired Digestion, caused by the overflow of bile and its mixing with the blood, theto pills, in doses four to six, will quickly regulate the action of the liver and free the patiedt from these difficulties. Ona or two of Radway's Pills taken daily, by those subject to bilious pains and torpidity of the liver, will keep the system regular and insure healthy digestion.

In case where there is severe inflamation, paralysis of the bewels, and a speedy discharge of their contents required, grind six of the pills to a powder and take in some preserves or water. In half an hour the pills, given in this way, will generally operate. The dose can be repeated, if necessary, in two hours. We have known the pills, given in this form, to opon the bowels ween Croton Oil. Elaterium, Podophyllum 'Mendrake' have failed. It is seldon that a second dose will be required in these cases of Intestinal Obstructions.
